

Critical thinking, (n): The strategies used to objectively analyse and evaluate a topic, problem or situation in order to form a judgement.

Transferable skills like critical thinking can help you in the process of shaping, presenting and building knowledge. Experts recognise that knowledge acquisition and the application of knowledge, which you will develop when studying for Pearson Edexcel qualifications, is something which transcends any individual academic discipline or learning situation.